

The Boomerang Principle®

Unleash the power of truth in people and organizations

What is It?

Everything we think, say and do boomerangs back to us. This is a spiritual truth and a scientific fact. Our choices determine our circumstances, environment and results. We are 100% responsible and accountable for our boomerangs.

The Obstacles

If our choices determine our results, it would seem that having, being or achieving what we want is a simple thing, but we all know it's not. Despite our best intentions, many of us choose the wrong boomerangs. We do this for a number of reasons, but the primary problem is that we make choices without thinking, especially when we are reactive or emotional to people and situations. Moreover, even though decision-making is the most critical skill—we've never been taught how to do it right!

The Approach

The Boomerang Principle® workshops, seminars or keynotes give participants three powerful questions that ensure that every decision is based in truth and will only improve your life and the lives of others. If applied, it is virtually impossible to make another bad decision. These questions have the power to transform your relationships, your career and your life.
